3. [redacted] Met with Jim Cline, House Judiciary Committee staff, and gave him the report on [redacted] 25X1A

I told Cline that our report to him on the seven instructors at the U.S. Army Institute for Advanced Russian and East Europe Studies at Garmish, Germany, who are the beneficiaries of a proposed Rodino-type bill, would be completed soon and he confirmed that he was only interested in pertinent identifiable, derogatory information.

4. [redacted] Mr. Robert Hull, Department of State, called in connection with an airgram which was ready for release concerning the selective evacuation to a safe haven of employees and/or families who have been subjected to terrorists attacks (see 20 July Memorandum for the Record). Based on the advice of Mr. [redacted] SSA/DDS, I called Hull and told him our substantive people see no problem in the proposed new policy. I emphasized that this was not a formal Agency position and that we did not want to be listed as coordinating on the airgram, but that we would like a copy. He said he understood perfectly and would put us on distribution.

6. [] Robert Horner, Chief Investigator, House Internal Security Committee, called and asked if I could pick up a thank you letter from Chairman Ichord to [] relating to the latter's testimony before the full Committee.

In connection with their request for [] to appear before the Committee, I alerted Horner to the possibility of a prior request of Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and told him that [] present frame of mind is such that it is doubtful that he would be an effective witness and the pressure of testifying might be a setback [] Horner understood perfectly. I told him we were prepared to come up with a substitute who we thought would do a good job, but Horner said they had located [] and it may be that they will be able to get all they want from him. If not, he will let us know.

25X1 6. [redacted] Informed the office of Representative Joel Broyhill (R., Va.) that our reply on the Michael A. Brown case would be delayed for several days while the facts are being gathered. The courtesy of the call was appreciated and a note will be made in the Congressman's files.

25X1 7. [redacted] Talked to Ed Braswell, Chief of Staff, Senate Armed Services Committee, who said he had again prodded Senator Stennis regarding a possible briefing of the Committee this week but without results. He said Stennis was non-committal, indicating some misgivings about a briefing of the full Committee and also about a briefing of the Agency Subcommittee. Privately Braswell suspects the Senator's indecision on the latter point may be due to uncertainty regarding Senator Russell's role, since Stennis apparently feels our two Subcommittees should meet jointly if at all.

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Friday - 10 July 1970

25X1 1. [] Talked to [] General Counsel, 25X1
NSA, who told me he has talked to all but one or two of the House Subcommittee on Manpower and Civil Service members and has received a favorable reception. At least one of the Subcommittee members felt disposed to amend S. 782 section by section if that is what is necessary to correct its deficiencies.

25X1 2. [] Robert Horner, Chief Investigator, 25X1 House Internal Security Committee, called to express the Committee's interest in a hearing with [] I told Horner that to the best of my knowledge we were not involved. Horner replied that he had called on the possibility that we may have been involved.

25X1 3. [] Mr. Reinhold, in the office of 25X1
Representative William Widnall (R., N. J.), called to ask that an application form and brochure on employment with the Agency be sent directly to one in the Office of Personnel, was advised.

25X1 4. [] J. Sourwine, Chief Counsel, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, called to say that Senator Eastland had spoken with him about the possibility of the Subcommittee holding public hearings on the subject of "The Plot Against Free World Police." He said Eastland had mentioned the possibility of a CIA contribution and asked Sourwine to look into it. Sourwine is interested in knowing if we have anything which we might contribute ourselves, or any suggestion that we might make. I told him I was quite certain that we would not want to be a part of a public hearing, but that I would look into this and be back in touch with him.

12. [] Talked with [] regarding Mr. Maury's most recent conversation with Representative David Henderson (D., N.C.), on [] I told Shaffer that Henderson did not want to bother the Army Comptroller people on these cases, but asked if we could pass the word to them that if the issue of compensation for hazardous duty pay could not be resolved in favor of the officers concerned, he was ready to take the matter up at the highest level in the Army and in GAO. [] said he would ask his liaison contact to pass this message to the Army Comptroller's office.

13. [] Called [] General Counsel, NSA, in the interest of keeping him abreast of developments on the Ervin bill, S. 782, and brought him up to date on several matters, including the Hampton letter, the transmittal of Agency views, and the Henderson Subcommittee meeting scheduled for Wednesday. [] was particularly pleased that Chairman Rivers, House Armed Services Committee, had included specific reference to NSA in his letter to Chairman Henderson.

14. [] Called Robert Hull, Department of State, and asked if he could provide us with a copy of the Department's letter to Chairman Henderson, House Manpower and Civil Service Subcommittee, on the Ervin bill, which he said he would be glad to do.

15. [] Called Theodore Kazy, Senior Staff Assistant, House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and told him that the Agency's views on the Ervin bill had been delivered to Chairman Henderson's office today and that it was substantially similar to the draft reviewed with him on 23 June. Kazy thanked us for keeping him up to date and said he thought there would be no problem to get a copy of our report. He told me of the Henderson Subcommittee's meeting scheduled for Wednesday and said there were rumors that the Subcommittee might consider introducing its own bill, although he has not seen a copy.

25X1

16. [] Picked up a copy of the [] transcript from House Internal Security Committee which was forwarded to SB Division for review, edit and return.
